GENERAL INFORMATION

The College of the San Francisco Art Institute, formerly the California School of Fine Arts, was founded in 1874 and is the oldest art school in the western United States. Since 1926, the College has been located on its own Russian Hill campus, only a few minutes from downtown San Francisco. An affiliate of the University of California, the Art Institute's College is fully accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges and by the National Association of Schools of Art to grant the Bachelor of Fine Arts and Master of Fine Arts degrees.

Programs of the Evening & Saturday School have been designed to meet the requirements of non-professionals, beginning and advanced students and degree candidates. Instructors are selected from the vanguard of creative artists to assure students the opportunity to work with men and women who are masters in their fields. Each faculty member is given freedom to use his own methods of instruction and to express his own concepts to his students. This freedom, which allows students to experience a variety of approaches to art, together with the professional competency of the teachers, encourages the student to develop his own creative abilities and attitudes and provides a unique learning situation for both the beginning and advanced student.

ACADEMIC CALENDAR

CREDIT Academic credit is awarded on the semester unit basis comprising fifteen weeks of instruction. One unit represents one 2½-hour instruction period per week, or forty-five academic hours of instruction per semester.

ELIGIBILITY FOR CREDIT

CREDIT (a) High school graduates or equivalent. (b) Students in good standing from other collegiate institutions.

NO CREDIT Persons enrolling as non-credit students (auditors) in credit courses must be 18 years of age or over unless given special permission by the Chairman of the Evening & Saturday School.

NO APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION OR TRANSCRIPT IS REQUIRED unless the student plans to continue his studies toward a degree in the regular college year at the San Francisco Art Institute.

GRADING SYSTEM The Following Grading System

Is Used: Honors, Pass, No Credit. Honors is the equivalent of A plus;

Pass is the equivalent of letter grades from A through C minus;

No Credit is the equivalent of D plus through F.

If incomplete work is not made up within the first six weeks of the following semester, a final grade of "NC" is given. A student may drop a course without penalty only during the first four weeks of the semester. Thereafter, the student will receive a grade of "NC" unless in the opinion of the instructor and the administration, special circumstances should enable him to receive a "W."

STUDENT ADVISORY SERVICE The Chairman of the Evening & Saturday School will be available for consultation concerning classes, subjects or study programs.

CHANGE OF PROGRAM A student may not exchange one course for another, drop a course or make any other change in his program without first consulting the Registrar and following established procedures. Courses may not be added or changed after the second week of the semester. Audit students may not apply for a change to credit status after the end of the second week of the semester. A student may drop a course without penalty during the first four weeks of the semester. Thereafter, the student will receive "NC."

VETERANS The San Francisco Art Institute is approved by the Veteran's Administration for study under Public Laws 16, 550, 634, 894, and 89-358. A veteran enrolling under one of these laws must present his Certificate of Eligibility at the time of registration. Veterans transferring from another institution must file a "Change of Place of Training" from before registration.

FOREIGN STUDENTS The College has been approved by the U.S. Attorney-General for the acceptance of foreign students in accordance with the immigration laws.

GENERAL RULES The College reserves the right to withdraw or change any courses listed and to substitute instructors. The College reserves the privilege of retaining student work for exhibition purposes, and for reproduction and publication. Work so retained may not be removed by the student without proper authorization. Student property not officially retained must be removed from the premises by the close of the semester or it shall be subject to disposal. Classes are limited in size and must be closed for registration when the maximum enrollment is reached. Information not in this bulletin will be found in the regular College Bulletin.

TUITION AND FEES Tuition—$50.00 per unit payable at time of registration. A late registration fee of $5.00 will be charged to all credit students registering after the close of registration week. A change of program fee of $2.00 will be charged for each program change after the close of registration week. Extra transcript fee, $1.00. Personal checks returned unpaid, $2.00.

WITHDRAWALS AND REFUNDS Students are responsible for full tuition and fees incurred. Refunds may be made on tuition only and will not be authorized unless notice of withdrawal from a class or the college is filed in writing with the Registrar. Refunds, when applicable, are based on full tuition and will be allowed according to the following schedule:

First week of semester—80%

Second week of semester—60%

Third week of semester—40%

Fourth week of semester—20%

Refunds cannot be made after the fourth week of the semester, nor can they be made to students who are dismissed from the College.

Any money owing the Institute is due on the day of withdrawal from the College.

UNPAID ACCOUNTS The Registrar cannot release grade reports, transcripts, degrees or certificates for any student whose account has not been paid in full, nor may a student whose account is delinquent register for subsequent semesters.

SCHEDULE OF EVENING & SATURDAY COURSES

FALL SEMESTER 1969

A one-unit course meets for one instruction period per week. A two-unit course meets for two instruction periods per week. For additional unit an independent studio period is scheduled. No additional unit may be taken without a scheduled studio period. No student may take a course for fewer or more than the number of units assigned the course.

"In a drawing class observation and giving definition to form are the important concerns, in painting, invention and meaning; the drawing ability attained in studying and practicing makes it possible to concentrate on the principal aspects of painting, drawing having become a faculty like hearing and seeing. I never plan the class curriculum for more than the next class, so that the project will always be based on what the particular class doesn't know or needs practice to really understand, thus the same class varies from one semester to the next. In the case of an advanced painting class there is no sense of a class project; projects are always on an individual basis, always trying to find a way for the next work to grow out of the present, but represent a new aspect. The teacher's task is to help the student find and identify his own urgency and then help him seek the track of a way to project and express that message. I encourage originality, have no hard and fast attitudes about materials, but rather encourage innovation with new materials, and I can almost invariably help students make color more meaningful." —Knute Stiles

"This class will be conducted with both a sense of freedom and discipline; the student will be encouraged to pursue any direction within the realm of the two-dimensional visual arts in which he is sincerely interested, without restrictions in media. He will be encouraged to produce work which reflects this interest along with personal knowledge and responsibility for its content.

"Since the class meets on Saturdays, we will, if the class chooses, make occasional field trips away from the classroom environment. Besides working field trips, these can include visits to museums, galleries, artists' studios and various other sporting events.

"The student will always be encouraged to ask questions of all sorts; it is my belief that the 'Why?' is slightly more important than the 'How?' Such discussions will perhaps develop during class, and everyone's participation will be invited." —Philip Linhares

"The emphasis is on getting an image that expresses you and your feelings on a visual level. Ways to uncomplicate the camera and make darkroom work as palatable as possible will be included. The instructor recommends that no equipment be specially purchased for the course, rather, wait until the first meeting before springing for that camera you always wanted (or needed).

"The instructor's goal for the course is to get you interested in the personal side of photography and to make photography so interesting and fun that you are caught up forever in its grasp. (The instructor is a Pisces on the cusp of Aries)." —Steve Sokol

"A photo/workshop in which everyone, including the instructor, will photograph within this thematic context. We will try to photograph basic American values, especially as they are expressed by behavior, by feelings, and by attitudes towards life and constructive activity on the one hand, and towards death, violence, and destructive activity on the other. Each of us will probably find a particular subject on this scale that relates to our individual interests and needs. But we will probably also find that, as a group, our work will span the full range suggested by this subject.

"We will also discuss, as we proceed, how this material might most effectively be used and displayed.

"Course is open to anyone with a working knowledge of the camera." —Dick Conrat
